UOB Asset Management Limited (UOBAM) announced today that following a review of its United Asia Fund (the "Fund") to see how its liquidity could be improved and its size increased, it will undertake an exercise to sub-divide the Fund's units (i.e. split the units) on April 8, 2004.

Each unit, including fractions, will be split into two units. This will lower the market price per unit of the Fund but will not affect the total value of a customer's original investment in any way.

To illustrate:
If a unit holder has 9,000 units, each worth about $2.20, the total value before the split will be $19,800 (9,000 x $2.20).

After the split, the total number of units held will be exactly 18,000 (i.e. one unit split into two).

The post-split price should be exactly $2.20 / 2 = $1.10. So the 18,000 units will have a value of 18,000 x $1.10 = $19,800. There is no change in total value.

UOBAM is of the view that by splitting the units, the net asset value per unit of the Fund will be brought closer to $1, thereby improving its affordability, which will in turn improve the liquidity of the Fund. A lower market price may also attract more investors to the Fund, resulting in a wider asset base.

"A larger fund size would also normally provide better economies of scale for the Fund, leading to potentially better long term returns for the unit holders," said Mr Glenn Lee, associate director of UOBAM.
UOBAM wishes to emphasise the splitting of the units will not prejudice our unit holders’ existing rights in the Fund. The sub-division exercise will be effected for all units issued before April 8, 2004.

Meanwhile, dealing of the Fund will be suspended on April 7 and 8, 2004. Any trade done during this period will be considered the next dealing day’s trade (April 12).

Purchase and switching requests using CPF OA and SRS payment modes will be suspended after 3pm from April 2 until April 6. Trades booked between April 2 (after 3pm) to April 8 will be considered the next dealing day’s trade (April 12).
